Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 5-7, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mori et al (4,613,782).

With respect to claim 1, Mori et al disclose in fig. 1 an actuator comprising an displacement element 1, a displacement expander 18, a transmitter 10, and a presser 19.

With respect to claims 2 and 7, the reference also discloses slits 18c which inherently makes the displacement expander 18 have less of a spring constant than the displacement element 1.

With respect to claims 5 and 10, the reference discloses that the displacement element 1 is laminated in last paragraph of column 2.

With respect to claim 6, Mori et al disclose in fig. 1 an actuator comprising an displacement elements 1 and 2, a displacement expanders 18a and 18b, a tip 10, and a presser 19.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 4, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori et al (4,613,782).

With respect to claims 3, 4, 8, and 9, Mori et al disclose in fig. 1 an actuator comprising an displacement element 1, a displacement expander 18, a transmitter 10, and a presser 19. The reference also discloses slits 18c which inherently makes the displacement expander 18 have less of a spring constant than the displacement element 1.

The reference does not disclose what frequency that the displacement element is driven at.

The Examiner takes Official Notice that it was well known in the art to drive piezoelectric element near their resonant frequencies for the purpose of most efficiently converting electrical energy into mechanical energy. It would have been obvious to drive piezoelectric element near their resonant frequencies for the purpose of most efficiently converting electrical energy into mechanical energy.
